L'AVOCAT PATELIN—Synopsis.

Patelin, an unscrupulous lawyer without clients, is in need of new clothes. By trickery he obtains from Guillaume, a tailor, six ells of cloth. When Guillaume arrives at his house an hour later to present his bill, Patelin feigns delirium so well that the tailor goes away, persuaded that such a sick man could not possibly have come to his shop. His surprise is great when, pleading in court the same day against his shepherd Agnelet, whom he has caught killing his sheep, he finds him defended by this same Patelin. The poor tailor, greatly disturbed, confuses the question of the sheep with that of the stolen cloth. The judge, puzzled, asks Agnelet questions. He, on Patelin's advice, answers by bleating. The judge, quite unable to understand anything, acquits Agnelet and reprimands Guillaume. Patelin wins, but as recompense gets from his obedient client nothing but a " BAA "!

K.G.S.
SCHOOL SONG.

Kilburn Grammarians, muster your forces,
Shoulder to shoulder, plucky and cool;
Steady and true as the stars in their courses,
All for the honour and fame of the School.

Down with the bully, the braggart, the birker,
Hence with the laggard, the coward and fool,
Down with the shirker, and up with the worker,
All for the honour and fame of the School.

Prove to your rivals your mettle and fibre,
Firm at your wickets, straight for your goal,
Staunch as Horatius, who, back to the Tiber,
Took of the foemen his terrible toll.

Stand then, Kilburnians, stand with each other,
Hand over shoulder, eager and strong,
England your mother, each Briton your brother,
Fired with your spirit, shall chorus your song.

H. G. BONAVIA HUNT.
